"NORTHERN LIGHTS."

The performance of the great American military play, "Northern Lights," as given by the members of Hindemans' Imperial Stock Company at the Washington Opera-house last night proved conclusively that this is the strongest and best repertoire company that has ever appeared in this city. In point of acting, costuming, mounting and attention to detail the performance would have been creditable at the regular house prices. The play is a particularly absorbing and interesting entertainment. T. B. Alexander, the role of "John Swiftwind," the terrible Indian, displayed a strength and versatility that his warmest admirers in this city never suspected. Harry B. Castle as "Colonel Gray," and Dave H. Woods as "Dan Horton," contributed excellent support. The scenery was of the highest quality, and the lighting was superb. The working of the "Northern Lights" being especially effective. For the matinee "In the Heart of the Storm," one of the heaviest and best scenic productions in the repertoire will be given, and notwithstanding the heavy expense the admission will be ten cents to all parts of the house. Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde will bring the engagement to a close this evening.

The district has one steam tender, which is the Goldenrod. She is to receive new mud drums and an electric searchlight. She is reported as being in good condition. About twenty years ago she made a record run from Pittsburgh to Cincinnati and return with a light tow. The time was 4 days, 24 hours and 15 minutes. INVESTIGATION ORDERED!

Coroner Will Learn the Cause of Andrew Daulton's Death.

Andrew Daulton's death, which occurred on Saturday, January 10th, was the subject of Coroner's investigation yesterday.

At the time of the death of the young man rumors flew thick and fast among his kindred and acquaintances because of certain circumstances attending the death of his domestic relations, and further stimulated by the manner of his taking off. Friday before his death he complained of feeling unwell.

Saturday morning early he told his wife to get his breakfast and he would go to his work at the Hall Plow Works. She did not think him well enough to go, so delayed the meal till past whistle blowing.

At the table, after pouring his coffee into his fork into its depths, then arising thrust it into the sole of his shoe; after this strange conduct he fell in convulsions, which continued intermittently until 10 o'clock that night, when death relieved him.

The undertaker was called in, the body was embalmed and the funeral and burial took place Monday.

Now the Coroner's services are invoked to satisfy Madame Rumor, and the Jury yesterday, after hearing witness, Dr. Yastell who attended Daulton, Mr. J. A. Means who prepared him for the grave, his brother and sister and one or two other neighbors, were instructed by the Coroner to retain this knowledge and reserve a verdict till the stomach of the deceased could be examined and critically analyzed by an expert chemist, which will require a week or two. Dr. Yastell was selected to supervise disintering the body, which will be this morning. He will remove the stomach and ship it for the purpose to the laboratory.

Mrs. Daulton is now with her mother in Ohio and was not present nor represented at the inquest.

The history of the brother and sister of the deceased connects the name of one Spencer as the cause for suspicion, he having been attentive to Mrs. Daulton and driven away from the humble home of the Daultons by the irate husband.

Upon the stand Dr. Yastell, in very pronounced language, combated the theory of poison as being the cause of death. He diagnosed the case as death from the result of excessive use of strong drink; uremic poison being the immediate cause of his death, notwithstanding the fact that for several months last past Mr. Daulton had not been addicted to the use of his habit.

The final outcome of the case is awaited with much anxiety by those who are interested.

IN OLDEN TIMES

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with the temporary relief that is generally known that Syrup of Figs was the best remedy for such a condition. Well-informed people will not be misled by the fact that Syrup of Figs is a cathartic, but finally injure the system. Buy the genuine, made by the California Fig Syrup Co.

Colonel Wm. F. Cody—Buffalo Bill—is organizing a hunting club that will have headquarters at his ranch in the Big Horn Mountains. The first outing will be in the autumn of 1901, and among the guests will be Colonel Roosevelt, General Miles and, should he come, the Prince of Wales will be asked to participate.

Mrs. Mildred McGlosson, aged 40, died at her home in this city, of a strange disease that is puzzling the medical fraternity. She was taken sick two months ago, and after two weeks' illness, began turning black. For five weeks before her death she remained as black as a full-blooded Negro. She suffered very little pain, but gradually withered away.

The directors of the American Humane Education Society and Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, have voted to petition Congress to take measures to prevent the fur trade shipment of merican horses and mules for use by the British Army in South Africa, in consideration of the terrible sufferings of American horses and mules shipped from American ports.

Rescue of Orphans From Calvary.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when introduced through the mucous surface, such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the danger of poisoning is great. It is derived from the purest of sources. It is the only remedy for such a condition. Well-informed people will not be misled by the fact that Syrup of Figs is a cathartic, but finally injure the system. Buy the genuine, made by the California Fig Syrup Co.

The Legislature of Kansas passed a resolution vigorously denouncing the barbarous practice of "hazing" at West Point; but the burning of Negroes at the stake in that state doesn't seem to have attracted the attention of the law-makers.

AFTER a reign of more than sixty years as Queen of England and queen of the hearts of the English people, VICTORIA has laid down her earthly crown to assume her heavenly one, greeted with the plaudits, "Well done, good and faithful servant."

THINK of it! One hundred years ago it would have taken thirty days for the readers of THE LEDGER to learn of the death of England's beloved Queen. Today the news comes in thirty minutes. Surely we live in the world's most glorious epoch.

JAMES E. CANTRELL, having constructed for himself considerable political pull by the use of his judicial functions, is now further strengthening his candidacy for the United States Senate by openly dabbling in machine politics. This, says The Louisville Dispatch, may be all right according to Cantrell ethics, but it is a very poor practice for a Judge.

HIS SECOND ATTEMPT.

Broke Away From His Father-in-Law and Threw Himself in Front of a Locomotive.

Paris, Ky., Jan. 23.—Nelson A. Brown, the Battle Creek (Mich.) traveling man, who attempted suicide in his room at the hotel Fordham, in this city, last Thursday, by inhaling gas, made a second unsuccessful attempt at self-destruction Tuesday morning.

Brown's father-in-law, J. H. Williams, chief of police of Battle Creek, arrived here Sunday and started home with Brown Tuesday morning. As the 5:13 train for Cincinnati came rolling in at a rapid rate Brown, who had been in the waiting room, dashed out and threw himself upon the track in front of the engine. Williams and several depot employees rushed to his rescue, but the engine struck him on one side, throwing him from the track and bruising him.

Williams and the now frantic Brown engaged in a hand-to-hand struggle, in which the former finally proved victorious, and Brown was placed on the train and they proceeded on their way to their homes. Brown is crazed from domestic troubles.

HIS SENTENCE STANDS.

Attorney Wilson Was Convicted of Causing the Death of Mary Cloyd—Sent Up For Five Years.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 23.—The court of appeals Tuesday affirmed the case of E. K. Wilson, the Laurel county lawyer and politician, who is under sentence of five years for manslaughter. Wilson's crime was the accusation of the Eleventh congressional district, and his trial one of the most noted in the history of that section. He was a distinguished lawyer of London, and boarded at the principal hotel of the town, where Mary Cloyd a pretty girl of good family, was a waitress.

Wilson and the girl were sweethearts till a scandal developed. To hide the girl's shame Wilson took her to Cincinnati, where he endeavored to secure the services of a physician. Failing in this, he attempted to perform an operation himself, and as a result the girl died.

EIGHT MEMBERS.

Gov. Beckham Names the Members of the State Board of Equalization.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 23.—The state board of equalization was appointed Tuesday by Gov. Beckham as follows: From the seven appellate districts: First district, W. T. Walker, merchant, of Clinton; Second district, Ben N. Hings, lawyer, of Hartford; Third district, George L. Willis, lawyer, of Shelbyville; Fourth district, Wm. A. Eubanks, real estate agent, of Louisville; Fifth district, J. J. McGehee, merchant, of Frankfort; Sixth district, Z. Taylor Young, lawyer, of Morehead; Seventh district, Ben N. Hings, lawyer, of Hartford. The state auditor is ex-officio member of the board, making the total number of members eight.

STEPHEN P. MYER DEAD.

The Well-Known Contractor Succumbed to Pneumonia in Louisville, Aged 72 Years.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 23.—Stephen Parsons Myer, aged 72 years, a well-known contractor, died Tuesday of pneumonia. Mr. Myer was one of a crew of men that threw the first spadeful of earth for the building of the Louisville & Nashville railroad. He built a number of lines in the south, but his greatest work was the building of the Colorado Midland. He also built a section of the Chicago drainage canal. Mr. Myer leaves a widow, six sons and two daughters.

Live Frog in His Stomach.

Taylorville, Ky., Jan. 23.—Lem Thompson, colored, of Washington county, became suddenly ill, and after considerable difficulty succeeded in emitting from his stomach a live frog. The frog was about half grown, and has marks on its body of peculiar character. Thompson immediately relieved of his suffering. Without doubt the frog was carried to his stomach while drinking from a spring or running stream, but the cause is a remarkable circumstance. Thompson is in the employ of Judge Litsey, and the judge has the frog in his possession.

Shulkey Is Indicted.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 23.—J. H. Shulkey, formerly of Oakbrook, Ky., was recently indicted by the federal grand jury for alleged fraudulent use of the mails, was held to the Fayette grand jury on the charge of libel in four cases, and his bail at $2,000. Shulkey is alleged to have sent broadcast over the country letters recommending upon Prof. Keys, a former teacher in his telegraph school.

Safe Moved From the Ruins.

Wahash, Ind., Jan. 23.—The safe in the vault of the Exchange bank, of Roanoke, destroyed in the fire last Friday night, was moved from the ruins Tuesday, having been guarded the Saturday. The combination of the outer door was found to work, but that on the inner door could not be budged. It will be forced. The safe contains nearly $70,000 in cash, notes and securities.

CONVINCING PROOF.

The Average Mayville Citizen Must Accept the Following Proof.

The great Sir Isaac Newton, one of the most profound reasoners the world ever produced, once cut a large hole in board fence to allow a favorite cat access to two gardens and cut a smaller hole to allow her kitten to follow her. The weakness manifested in Sir Isaac's action was due to want of thought. Any reader who mentally debates the proof offered here about Doan's Kidney Pills and arrives at any other conclusion is as short of reasoning powers as the philosopher when he turned carter.

Mr. John H. Fansler of 200 East Fourth street says:

"It is most pleasing to learn of a remedy which does all that is claimed for it when there are so many who merit credit only on paper. I know that Doan's Kidney Pills are a valuable and reliable kidney remedy and this fact is substantiated by ample proof by the personal use. I procured the remedy at J. Jas. Wood & Son's drug store, corner of West Second and Market streets."

VICTORIA IS DEAD.

The Beloved Queen is No More and Edward VII. Reigns in Her Stead.

MOST STUPENDOUS CHANGE IN HISTORY

The End of a Career Never Equalled by Any Woman Came in a Simply Furnished Room.

Around the Beside of the Dying Ruler

Were Gathered Almost Every Descendant in Her Line.

From All Parts of the World There Are Pouring Into Osborne House Messages of Condolence—Remains Will Be Taken to Windsor on Saturday.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan. 23.—
Queen Victoria is dead and Edward
VII. reigns.

The greatest event in the memory of this generation, the most stupendous change in existing conditions that could possibly be imagined, has taken place quietly, almost gently, upon the anniversary of the death of Queen Victoria's father, the duke of Kent.

The end of this career, never equaled by any woman in the world's history, came in a simply furnished
room in Osborne house, Wednesday
evening, at 10.15, when the old queen, aged 82, lay in a great four-posted bed
and made a shrunken atom whose
aged face and figure were a cruel
memento of the fair girl who in 1817 began to rule over England.

Portrait of the Prince Consort.

Around her were gathered almost every descendant of her line. Well within view of her dying eyes were hung a portrait of the prince consort. It was he who designed the room and every part of the castle.

Not until Queen Victoria has been laid to rest beside the prince consort at Frogmore will the theaters or music halls reopen. Moreover, business will come to a practical standstill.

REGRET AND SYMPATHY.

Congress Adopted Suitable Resolutions, and the House Adjourned
Out of Respect.

WASHINGTON, JAN. 23.—The house

today adopted a resolution expressing profound grief and sympathy for the English people on account of the death of Queen Victoria. The president was requested to communicate the expression of the British government, and, as a further mark
of respect to the memory of the deceased, the action of the house was particularly impressive. The resolution was adopted without a word of dissent or debate. The resolution followed the precedents and
was in almost the identical language
of the resolution adopted upon the occasion of the death of the president of the French republic and the late emperor of Germany.

THE WOMEN SOBBED FAINTLY.

Six o'clock passed. The bishop continued his intercession. One of the younger children asked a question in
a shrill, childish treble, and was immediately silenced. The women of the royal family sobbed faintly and the men shuffled uneasily. As exactly 6:30 Sir James Reid held up his hand, and the people in the room
knew that England had lost her queen. The bishop pronounced the benediction.

THE QUEEN PASSED AWAY QUITE PEACE- FULLY. SHE SUFFERED NO PAIN. THOSE WHO WERE NOW MOURNERS WERE TO BE BURIED AT WINDSOR SATURDAY.

It seemed then very near the end,
but when things looked the worst
the queen had one of the rallies, due to her wonderful constitution, and
opened her eyes and recognized the prince of Wales, the princess and Emperor William. She asked to see one of her faithful servants, a member of the household. He hastened to the room, but before he got there
the queen had passed into a final sleep.

FOUR O'CLOCK MARKED THE BEGINNING

of the end. Again the family were summoned, and this time the release
was not followed by recovery.

BREATHED HER LAST.

The prince of Wales was very much affected when the doctors at last informed him that his mother had breathed her last. Emperor William himself deeply affected, did his best
to minister comfort to his sorrow-
stricken uncle, whose new dignity he was the first to acknowledge.

FROM ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD THERE ARE POURING INTO COWES MESSAGES OF CONDOLENCE. THEY COME FROM CROWNED HEADS, MILLIONAIRES, TRADES- MEN AND PEASANTS, BUT ARE ALL ADDRESSED TO THE PRINCE OF WALES AND THE KING OF ENGLAND.

Emperor William attended the funeral.
Emperor William's arrangements
are not settled. His yacht arrived here Wednesday, but it is believed he will not depart until after the funeral. Several other royal personages are likely to be present at the funeral.

Not until Queen Victoria has been laid to rest beside the prince consort at Frogmore will the theaters or mu- sic halls reopen. Moreover, business will come to a practical standstill.

REGRET AND SYMPATHY.

Congress Adopted Suitable Resolutions, and the House Adjourned
Out of Respect.

WASHINGTON, JAN. 23.—The house

today adopted a resolution expressing profound grief and sympathy for the English people on account of the death of Queen Victoria. The
president was requested to communicate the expression of the British government, and, as a further mark
of respect to the memory of the
deceased, the action of the house
was particularly impressive. The resolution was adopted without a
word of dissent or debate. The resolution followed the precedents and
was in almost the identical language
of the resolution adopted upon the
occasion of the death of the president of the French republic and the
late emperor of Germany.

THE WOMEN SOBBED FAINTLY.

Six o'clock passed. The bishop continued his intercession. One of the younger children asked a question in
a shrill, childish treble, and was immediately silenced. The women of the royal family sobbed faintly and
the men shuffled uneasily. As exactly 6:30 Sir James Reid held up his
hand, and the people in the room
knew that England had lost her
queen. The bishop pronounced the benediction.

THE QUEEN PASSED AWAY QUITE PEACE- FULLY. SHE SUFFERED NO PAIN. THOSE WHO WERE NOW MOURNERS WERE TO BE BURIED AT WINDSOR SATURDAY.

It seemed then very near the end,
but when things looked the worst
the queen had one of the rallies, due
to her wonderful constitution, and
opened her eyes and recognized the
prince of Wales, the princess and Emperor William. She asked to see
one of her faithful servants, a member of the household. He hastened
to the room, but before he got there
the queen had passed into a final
sleep.

FOUR O'CLOCK MARKED THE BEGINNING

of the end. Again the family were
summoned, and this time the release
was not followed by recovery.

BREATHED HER LAST.

The prince of Wales was very much
affected when the doctors at last informed him that his mother had
breathed her last. Emperor William
himself deeply affected, did his best
to minister comfort to his sorrow-
stricken uncle, whose new dignity he
was the first to acknowledge.

FROM ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD THERE ARE POURING INTO COWES MESSAGES OF CONDOLENCE. THEY COME FROM CROWNED HEADS, MILLIONAIRES, TRADES- MEN AND PEASANTS, BUT ARE ALL ADDRESSED TO THE PRINCE OF WALES AND THE KING OF ENGLAND.

Emperor William attended the funeral.
Emperor William's arrangements
are not settled. His yacht arrived
here Wednesday, but it is believed he
will not depart until after the funeral. Several other royal personages
are likely to be present at the funeral.

FROM ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD THERE ARE POURING INTO OSBORNE HOUSE MESSAGES OF CONDOLENCE—RE- MAINS WILL BE TAKEN TO WINDSOR ON SATURDAY.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan. 23.—
Queen Victoria is dead and Edward
VII. reigns.

THE GREATEST EVENT IN THE MEMORY OF THIS GENERATION, THE MOST STUPEN- DIOUS CHANGE IN EXISTING CONDI- TIONS THAT COULD POSSIBLY BE IMAGINED, HAS TAKEN PLACE QUIETLY, ALMOST GENTLY, UPON THE ANNIVERSARY OF THE DEATH OF QUEEN VICTORIA'S FATHER, THE DUKE OF KENT.

The end of this career, never
equaled by any woman in the world's
history, came in a simply furnished
room in Osborne house, Wednesday
evening, at 10.15, when the old queen,
aged 82, lay in a great four-posted bed
and made a shrunken atom whose
aged face and figure were a cruel
memento of the fair girl who in 1817
began to rule over England.

Portrait of the Prince Consort.

Around her were gathered almost
every descendant of her line. Well
within view of her dying eyes were
hung a portrait of the prince consort. It was he who designed the room and every part of the castle.
